ORPHAN ASYLUM CHILDREN.

Had a Delightful Outing Yesterday on the Steamer Continental—Kindness of the New Haven Steamboat Company—Happy Children.

The inmates of the New Haven orphan asylum were given a grand treat yesterday in the way of a fine sail on Long Island sound on the steamer Continental, the boat leaving Belle dock about 2 o'clock, returning about 5:30. The local agent, Mr. Charles I. French, placed the boat at the disposal of the managers of the asylum free of cost, and did everything in his power to make a pleasant time for the excursionists. The children were supremely happy, and joy and happiness was written on all faces.

The children were also treated to ice cream, cake and lemonade, which added much to the sum total of their enjoyment. The day was a delightful one for the outing. Accompanying the children were the ladies of the orphan asylum household and a representative of the lady managers.

AN ENJOYABLE OCCASION

At Hillhurst on Lake Whitney's Borders—Union No. 1, W. C. T. U.—Meeting Held and Addresses Made.

Union No. 1, W. C. T. U., with their friends, passed a day very pleasantly at "Hillhurst" on Lake Whitney borders. It would be hard to find a more delightful spot for a "summer outing."

The lovely view of the lake, the boats gliding to and fro, and in the distance our beautiful "Rock Park" with its towering monument, all form a picture of rare beauty. The "noon hour" was passed in the pavilion, where the comfort of the picnicers was well looked out for by the proprietor, Mr. E. H. Moulton. At 3 o'clock a very interesting meeting was held in the grove conducted by Mrs. R. Morrell, president of Union No. 1. The "Crucade Psalm" was read by Mrs. Steele. Very impressive addresses were given by Rev. E. H. Steele, Mr. Brown, Mr. Morrell, Mrs. Miller of Lake Whitney union, Mrs. M. Foster of Union No. 1 and many other friends. The first speaker drew a very vivid picture of the "natural man" comparing him to a man who is sinking in a quagmire. The harder he tries to help himself the deeper and deeper he sinks. Help must come from without; so with the man struggling in the mire of sin. He cannot save himself, but if he will but accept the "help of one who is mighty," he will be saved.

We also had the pleasure of listening to five recitations from Mrs. Wethesby, Mrs. Downs and Miss Nettleton. Great interest was shown by those present. E. B. EVANS.

TO STUDY THE COAST LINE.

The Naval Militia Will Take a Tour of the Coast Instead of a Cruise.

The members of the naval militia, C. N. G., have been directed by Lieutenant E. V. Reynolds, chief of division, to report at division headquarters at 7 o'clock a. m., August 19, for six days' boat and field duty.

This is a repetition of special order No. 85, issued by the adjutant general.

The division will first start for Niantic in four sections, going in four navy cutters loaned by the New York Naval militia. Lieutenant E. G. Buckland will go to Niantic by rail and have arrangements for the division all completed when they arrive.

Quartermaster General Disbrow will furnish tents, and the camp will be near the seaside battery.

The work in camp will be divided between artillery and infantry drill on land, together with reconnoitering by boats along the coast. Two sections will be left on shore, and the other two will be sent out on the cutters.

It is planned to give the division as much work as possible in studying the contour of the coast, and it is intended to make the men all familiar with the important inlets along the coast, and other topographical features.

The state has fully equipped the division for artillery and infantry drill on shore, and there will be target practice with the two Hotchkiss one pound guns, and the howitzer.

The state has issued 120 rounds of full service charges for the one pound rapid firing guns, 2,000 rounds of ammunition for revolver practice and 1,000 rounds additional for rifle practice.

This work, instead of a tour, has been necessitated as no cruiser can be secured for a cruise since the government desires to assemble all the north Atlantic squadron ships for evolutions this month.

WEST HAVEN LADIES

Have One of the Biggest Trolley Parties of the Season.

The Ladies' Aid society and the Young People's society of the West Haven Congregational church, gave a trolley party last evening. The party started at the office of the Winchester avenue road in the borough and came to this city and then went to Westville and back to West Haven. From West Haven they went to Woodmont. There were five cars, all fully occupied.

THE NEW ENGLAND FAIR

Will Be Held in Portland, Maine, Aug. 27, 28, 29 and 30—Many Notable Attractions Promised—President Cleveland Expected to Attend.

The New England fair to be held in Portland, Me., on August 27, 28, 29 and 30 promises to be an exceedingly interesting exposition.

All roads will lead to Portland, Me., on this occasion. This fair has long enjoyed the distinction of being the fair of fairs in New England. This year it is the intention to have it eclipse all previous exhibitions. But a few of the features can be enumerated in a newspaper notice. The grounds are ample and easily accessible, the grand stand, judges' stand and stabling the finest in the east, while the track is celebrated the country over. The exhibit at Rigby park is certain to prove worthy a visit. Applications for space at city hall already promise to crowd the big building. The management have been undying since early in April in an endeavor to secure not only the finest agricultural, horticultural and floricultural exhibits to be had, but novelties of merit and interest. That they have succeeded in securing great special attractions is evident from their announcement of bicycle races by John S. Johnson and other noted wheelmen, a March Gras floral parade, coaching parade, telephone concerts, electrical novelties, coast fisheries and the world's fair exhibits of New England birds and animals.

The city of Portland has taken hold heartily with the management in extending invitations to distinguished people all over the country. The city will entertain a large number who have accepted. Congressman Reed has the assurance of Secretary Herbert that the North Atlantic squadron will be in Portland harbor during the week of the fair. It is more than probable that President Cleveland, Vice President Stevenson, Secretary of Agriculture Morton and Secretary of the Navy Herbert will attend, as both President Cleveland and Vice President Stevenson are now in New England. Special effort will be made to draw from the large Masonic bodies in Boston the last week in August. The sail down the coast should prove a treat to many from the west and south. Shriners of Minneapolis we learn have already planned a trip to Portland.

MALLEY-NEELY & CO.

New Haven, Tuesday, Aug. 6, 1895.

The weather to-day—Likely to be fair.

Let us think together upon a few of our former sayings which briefly reflect some characteristic features of the Big Store.

A business not suggestive of the dead past, but of the living present.

The "one price" principle to rich and poor, high and low.

Courteous treatment, irresistible prices, full measure and no afterclaps.

People like to trade where little wants are treated as carefully as big ones.

Isn't it important to prove just where a dollar goes the furthest in the long run?

We are firm believers in fair merchandise at fair prices. And the public are with us.

The convenience of many stores in one, scores a great point for the Big Store. It's not only the convenience, but the economy of the thing that counts. Economy of time, of money, of strength, of patience.

Goods may be carried over from season to season but not on our shelves.

Every minute's one. No time wasted by Big Store shoppers—nor money.

Foreign names couldn't improve our Dress Goods—the best in New Haven.

When you can't come and see us, write and be agreeably surprised.

The more one trades at the Big Store the more one wants to.

What's the use of being superior merchants unless we let strangers know it?

Don't pick in so many places for the right merchandise. Pick the right merchant and stick to him.

You have to have things, but you don't have to be overcharged for things.
